Adventist Resources Section

Unified Collection Development Policy

This is a summary of the Seventh-day Adventist materials collection development policy for the North American college and university libraries. It is designed to help the libraries know and understand what other institutions are collecting as a possible aid to their own collection development or to help patrons know where to turn for access to Adventist materials.

All of the institutions have their own Adventist materials collection development policy. What this is is simply a convenient summary of those policies. It does not in any way supersede the existing policies. It should also be born in mind that these policies can change at any time. This presentation is only reasonably accurate at the time it was created. The information presented is based on a survey submitted to each institution.

I. General

Mission Statements:

Andrews University

The mission of the Adventist Heritage Center is to acquire, organize, preserve, and make available for use a comprehensive research collection of resources relating to the Seventh-day Adventist Church, its antecedents and related groups, and Andrews University and its antecedents. As a department of the James White Library, its mission supports the mission of the library of which it is a part.

Canadian Union College

The mission of the Adventist heritage collection is to collect and preserve materials relating to the Seventh-day Adventist Church, with a special emphasis on Seventh-day Adventism in Canada. The collection supports the educational programs of the college and also serves as a resource for the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada.

Columbia Union College

The Weis Library Heritage Room will provide and preserve a centralized reference collection of selected materials by, about, or related to Seventh-day Adventists.

Ellen G. White Estate

To preserve and make available the writings of Ellen G. White.

General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists Archives

To preserve and make available for research use the records produced at General Conference headquarters.

La Sierra University

Assist the educational mission of La Sierra University. Preserve the history of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and La Sierra University.

Loma Linda University

This department of the Del E. Webb library and Branch office of the Ellen G. White Estate has a diverse but complementary role to play in the work of Loma Linda University and the Seventh-day Adventist church. Behind all strategy is the primary purpose for the existence of the department/office. This ultimate purpose is to gather, preserve, organize for access, and promote the history of the Seventh-day Adventist church and Loma Linda University with a special emphasis on the life, ministry, and writings of Ellen G. White. Adventist historical documents and materials tell the story of the origin and development of the Seventh-day Adventist church. This background is vital to accurately articulating the beliefs and background of the Seventh-day Adventist church.

Jointly operated by the University and the Ellen G. White Estate, the department/office is guided by the complementary objectives these entities. Beyond comprehensively collecting and preserving Adventist historical documents, the department/office seeks to make practical this history by publishing, developing displays, giving programs, conducting history tours, performing oral histories, participating in teaching ministry, and operating a reading room for researchers and students. The scope of service includes, pastors, teachers, students, administrators, churches, educational entities, Seventh-day Adventist church members and the greater community.

Oakwood College

The mission of the Oakwood College Archives and Museum is to acquire, organize, preserve, and make available to users a comprehensive research collection of materials relating to Blacks in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. As a department of the Eva B. Dykes Library, its mission supports the mission of the Library and the educational programs of Oakwood College. The collection also serves as a major resource for the Seventh-day Adventist Church, as a whole, as well as scholars studying Black Seventh-day Adventists and Oakwood College history. Oakwood College has a collection of international importance in the study of work among Black Seventh-day Adventists.

Pacific Union College

To provide Millerite/SDA-related historical and theological materials for faculty, students, community and other interested researchers.

Southern Adventist University

To provide faculty and students with information contained in publications about the SDA organizations in response to their informational needs as they relate to the curriculum.

Southwestern Adventist University

The mission of the Special Collections and Archives Department (Heritage Room) is to collect, preserve and provide access to SDA church history (general and Texas specifically), Ellen G. White writings, the University archives, and related local history materials. The primary constituencies include the University community, Johnson County, and the Southwestern and Texas Conferences.

Walla Walla College

Because of Walla Walla College's SDA heritage and mission, readily available materials by and about Seventh-day Adventists and the Seventh-day Adventist Church will be collected in support of the curriculum and the recreational and research needs of patrons.

Goals:

Andrews University

1. Develop a comprehensive collection in all formats related to the Seventh-day Adventist Church, its antecedents, and related groups.
2. Develop a comprehensive collection in all formats related to Andrews University and its antecedents.
3. Function as the rare book room for the James White Library, not actively pursuing but holding rare books.

Canadian Union College

- To collect and preserve both published and manuscript materials relating to the history of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada.

Columbia Union College

1. Provide one copy of each Ellen G. White title.
2. Provide one copy of selected scholarly and other works (books, pamphlets, periodicals, reference materials, et.) by, about, or related to Seventh-day Adventists and to the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in particular.
3. Provide and preserve all Columbia Union College archival materials and memorabilia.
4. Provide and preserve selected materials related to Takoma Park, Maryland.

Oakwood College

1. To provide a reputable research center for the housing of historical, official, and vital information on Black Seventh-day

- Adventist history.
2. To collect quality and accessible holdings on Black Seventh-day Adventists.
  3. To stimulate intellectual and serious research.
  4. To orientate our students on the importance of historical preservation and to acquaint our students with the facility that provides vital information about our heritage.

Southern Adventist University

1. To provide materials by and about SDA's.
2. To provide selective SDA periodicals considered to be most useful to the clientele.
3. To provide selective materials of historical or research value by and about SDA's.
4. To provide selective recreational materials by and about SDA's.

Southwestern Adventist University

1. Develop a pervasive atmosphere of service and care that satisfies the needs of patrons and collections alike.
2. Become a regional SDA research center that supports scholarly endeavors on a broad front.
3. Acquire monographs, manuscripts, records, and photographic materials related to the mission of the service.
4. Provide an environment, storage and use strategies, that will promote the preservation of all materials regardless of format.

Walla Walla College

1. Most materials published by the Review & Herald and the Pacific Press
2. Selected materials from the General Conference, the North American Division, and the E. G. White Estate.
3. Readily available resources, including compilations, by and about Ellen G. White.
4. Selected materials of historical and research value by and about Seventh-day Adventists generally and SDA's in the Pacific Northwest specifically.

III. Unpublished Materials

Collection Levels

- Tier 1 Collect readily available materials to meet their patron's needs. Will not normally collect manuscript or unpublished materials. Will encourage donors to give manuscript or unpublished materials to a tier 3 research center. Will accept collection if donor is not willing to consider another library.
[SA, WW]
- Tier 2 Collect at tier 1 level plus a limited number of manuscript or unpublished collections which relate to a narrow area of collecting--i.e. regional SDA history.
[CA, CO, LS, OC, PC, SW]
- Tier 3 Comprehensive collection of published and unpublished materials and special collections on a broad range of SDA history and thought.
[AU, GC, LL]
